

COMPLETE PARALEGAL TRAINING

WHY WOULD YOU
TAKE
IT?

One of the demanding careers
A Course Loved by learners
Loved by professionals
Designed and Developed by experts

You could work for a solicitors' firm, a paralegal law business, or a set of chambers, as well as in the commercial and public sectors, such as government or industry, or for not-for-profit organisations and charities.

Depending on your field of practice, you may have a variety of roles. If you work in conveyancing, for example, you're unlikely to have much face-to-face contact with clients. If you work in the criminal justice system, you'll have to go to court, police stations, and talk to suspects.
